Basically how the app is going to work is the user takes a picture/screenshot of a piece of clothing that they might wanna buy for themselves but don't know where to get it or where it's from. The user just needs to screenshot the clothing and make sure that it is only that piece of clothing visible in the picture/screenshot. Then the app will scan the clothing and scan through websites where they might sell it and a list of reliable websites will pop with the best prices at the top of the list which users can order it from. I think this would be a useful app because I personally see clothing that people wear and I really like but I never know where they get it and I can't ask either. I also see this experience happen to people so I think this will be really beneficial to some people because it will make it easier for users to find these clothes and get it for the best price possible. The app will be at first free and once it is famous or well known we could start adding in-app purchases or make the app $1 in the app store. I think this app will do really well because I don't think this app was ever made before or anything similar to it and I feel like it's gonna be useful to everybody.
